To Whom It May Concern

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Aaron Carlson Woodworking.

Aaron Carlson Woodworking was awarded the millwork package for the Virchow Krause Project at the 225 S Sixth Street building in Minneapolis. Nick Schwalbe was assigned as their Project Manager. This project was unusual, calling for an internal 60-ft clerestory wood wall at five flights of stairs. The stair tread and risers were also wrapped in wood.

Welsh Construction was extremely pleased with Aaron Carlson's quality of performance on this complex project and their attention to detail. I found Nick Schwalbe to be an effective communicator, ensuring conformance to the project schedule, and offering value engineering suggestions to help maintain the project's budget. Nick and Aaron Carlson were very flexible to work with, accepting changes in stride. They were always timely, courteous to all field trades and professional in all respects.

I have no hesitation in recommending Aaron Carlson for a construction project no matter the size or complexity.

Respectfully,
